Have you experienced The Home Instead Way?

We enhance the lives of ageing adults and their families in cities, towns and parishes all over Ireland.

We are only able to do this thanks to our 4,500-strong team of caring and compassionate people, who consistently deliver quality care to our clients.

We show our appreciation to our CAREGivers in many different ways, and we are thrilled when they tell us why they love working for Home Instead:*

“Office staff are very nice, helpful and professional. It is a friendly and warm atmosphere, which I love.”

“Home Instead are fantastic at providing course work or training, give plenty of time for introductions and always try to work around your schedule.”

“I love Home Instead's flexibility in helping me find a working timetable that suits me, one that I can fit around my family life.”

*Feedback from our independent annual employee happiness survey, PEAQ

Our CAREGivers come from diverse backgrounds and have different career goals:

- Full-time Carers: You already work in home care, and have QQI training to support your experience
- Part-time Carers (experienced): You already work part-time in home care with older people in your community or perhaps you are or have been a family carer
- Part-time Carers (non-experienced): You care about the older people in your community, and you'd like to help them to live happy lives at home, on a schedule that fits your life and matches your availability
- Student Nurses: You are currently in training and are looking for practical experience and flexible opportunities
- Former Nurses / Family Carers / Retirees: You'd like to spend a few hours a week giving back to the community

The most important thing we look for in a person is a kind and caring heart – someone who shares our mission and values and who would like to help us to enhance the lives of ageing adults and their families.
